

"HOKY-POKEY" BELOW STANDARD

Health Officer Gets After Makers of Ice Cream Sold on the Streets.

UNFAIR TO HONEST DEALERS

Proposes to Have Product Come Up to Quality Required by Law.

As a measure necessary to public health and as a means of protecting the honest ice cream dealer and manufacturer against the spurious article sold on the streets from push carts by itinerant dealers, the District Health Officer is of the opinion that the so-called "hoky-poky" should be required by law to meet the higher standard of the ice cream sold by the legitimate dealers. While these push-cart dealers are permitted to operate, he thinks, they should not be permitted to offer for public consumption any concoction the ingredients of which are not up to a high standard, and which is likely to dangerously affect the health of people eating it.

Justice to Legitimate Makers.

A higher ice cream standard for this product of the street hawker, in his opinion, will not only work to the betterment of health, but will enable the legitimate dealer, selling the known pure ice cream and maintaining the accepted 15 per cent butter fat, and in some cases better, standard, to meet this competition.

A test of several samples of ice cream from push-carts was some time ago made by District Chemist Lynch, to determine the relative merits of the various ice creams and its possible good or bad effects on health. All of them were found lacking in nutritive value.

A High Grade Cream.

In striking contrast to these and to the product of a number of obscure manufacturers is the ice cream of such concerns as the Chapin-Sacks Manufacturing Company, who not only make a cream with the desired standard of 15 per cent, but who have raised this to 20 per cent of butter fat. The Chapin-Sacks article is produced amid the most approved sanitary surroundings in their model factory, and all the cream is pasteurized before it is frozen. The flavoring extracts used by this concern are the very best obtainable.

On the other hand, the so-called "hoky-poky" is said to be almost entirely without nutritive value. While the samples analyzed did not contain any ingredients likely to work injury to health, yet they were all found to have been made of inferior gelatine, pale looking milk, and eggs of questionable freshness, and, in the true acceptance of the article, was not ice cream at all, but a weak substitute so labeled.

Aimed at Inferior Products.

This low grade article is, therefore, what the Health Officer says he would like to get at, and bring it up, if possible, to the plane of the superior article. He realizes that it can only be done by a carefully designed provision in the pure food law, and with this in view, he probably takes the matter up at a later date.

EXERCISES HIS OPTION AND TAKES PROPERTY

The sale of the property known as the Dockson Building, at 734 Fifteenth street northwest, which was purchased in March last by J. T. Hendricks, has finally been concluded, and the deed has gone over with this in view of the consideration named is $175,000, which is about $2 per foot, as the lot has a frontage of 100 feet with a depth of 100 feet. The improvement consists of a substantial four-story and basement office building, all of which is under good rental, so that the property makes a good investment.

Associated with Mr. Hendricks is Clarence P. Noyd, who has been a resident of this city for many years, and who believes that values in that locality are destined to have considerable advance in the near future. While no decided changes in the building are contemplated at present, it is known that several plans have been considered for the erection of a handsome structure, which may be considered next spring.

MARINE BAND CONCERT AT CHEVY CHASE LAKE

No other place of amusement within easy access of Washington offers such great opportunities for enjoyable recreation as Chevy Chase Lake. Aside from the natural beauties of the place, the artistic illuminations and other attractions that appeal to the eye, there are nightly concerts rendered by the Marine Band Orchestra, dancing, and many other diversions. Concert hours are from 7:30 to 9, when the band is in full intermission, and then the great dancing pavilion is the center of attraction until 11.

The annual "pilgrimage" of Orient Commandery, K. T., will be made to Marshall Hall tomorrow. Boats will leave at 10 a. m., 2:30 and 6:30 p. m. The committee of arrangements promises all who attend a day of rest, recreation, and pleasure. Music will accompany each trip and be in evidence for dancing during the entire sojourn. HAS SKULL FRACTURED WITH PIECE OF CONCRETE

Hit on the head with a piece of concrete, William P. Mason, colored, twenty-four years old, of 1304 Rhode Island avenue northwest, received a compound fracture of the skull last night while fighting in front of 1422 First street northwest. He is in the Homeopathic Hospital in a precarious condition. Lewis Tillman was arrested by police of the Second precinct this morning, charged with hurling the heterogeneous mass at Mason. Because of the latter's critical condition the case will not be taken to the Police Court for several days.

KANSAS HAS FREAK POLITICAL ISSUE

Length of Men's Shirts to Be Bone of Contention in "Socksless" Simpson's State.

TOPEKA, Kan., June 20.—There has been injected into the State political campaign the queerest issue of Kansas' many freak issues—the length of men's shirts. Although both the Republican and Democratic State committees frowned upon it, the length of shirts is a direct issue. An agricultural paper is leading a movement to organize the farmers into unions. The argument has been advanced that if every shirt were made one inch longer, the additional cloth required would consume the entire surplus cotton crop.

Ryan and Crupper, chairmen, respectively, of the Democratic and Republican committees, suggested today that if this remedy were reversed, to equalize matters in case of a shortage of the cotton crop, the result might be embarrassing.

"I think the farmers should go slow on this proposition," said Chairman Ryan.
